1. A hangar accommodating approximately six PE-2 planes is located in the northern part of the former Wiener-Neustadt aircraft factory airfield in the immediate vicinity of Theresienfeld, about 150 yards east of the Wiener-Neustadt - Theresienfeld road. Four twin-engine planes believed to be PE-2s, were parked in front of the hangar; they had a double tail unit, V-shaped elevator assembly and airfoils. One twin-engine plane with three-blade propellers was seen inside the hangar. Electric welding was being done there.

2. Three buildings, one of them a two-story house, located at the southern end of Theresienfeld and east of the Theresienfeld - Wiener-Neustadt road, are occupied by Soviets. It is believed that factory and airfield personnel is quartered there.
